“Introductions”

You never get a second chance to make a first impression.

Red Hill Gallery is proud to provide a visual introduction of three contemporary, new wave artists, showcasing their paintings for the first time.

Each artist tells a story, capturing memories and communicating their emotional perspectives through the canvas. Their own distinctive style entices the viewer to discover a reinvigorating passion.

Bill Burrows/Christopher Seater/Warren Salter

Bill Burrows' paintings start with a pre-determined image or symbol, the metamorphosis begins, changing and revealing unexpected meaning and directions.

Christopher Seater's art explores the rugged terrain of the sub conscious; the tension between what appears and what is his interpretation of the human condition.

Warren Salter's affinity with nature is the fuel for his inspiration. His art is a testament to his sensitivity as he attends to every detail and the subtleties of pigment.

Join us for the opportunity to look at these works of art without the preconceived ideas that influence the response to the familiar.
