

Imaginative

Conchita Carambano

Regina Noakes

Red Hill Gallery is proud to present a unique collection of works by Conchita Carambano and Regina Noakes

Two naturally talented and highly qualified painters whose diverse and innovative styles instinctively reflect their heritage.

The exhibition will be officially opened on Sunday 18 July 2-4pm and continues daily until Saturday 31 July 2010

Conchita Carambano ...Influenced by her Australian lifestyle and her Spanish heritage, Conchita loves to create brilliant multi-layered and richly textured paintings that reflect and portray her surroundings, space and experiences in her own unique way.

Recent commissions for the National Library in Canberra and the Sydney Hilton Hotel have further consolidated her reputation as an established and highly collectible Australian artist.

Regina Noakes... Influenced by her background and using the influence of Romanesque and Mughal art, Regina is a full time artist who imaginatively re-interprets her childhood and youthful memories. Regina creates imposing yet lovable figures that engage and mesmerise as they stare out from her paintings.

Regina regularly exhibits internationally and her work is included in major collections such as the British Government and Eric Clapton.
