Katherine Wood

In her first Australian Solo Exhibition

SCAPES LAND | SEA | SKY

Katherine's artistic style can best be described as 'abstract imaginings' which creates a balance between traditional landscape and contemporary abstraction. Her canvases are a battleground of scraped textures and manipulated paint that reflect a powerful energy.

Katherine is a full time professional artist, born in Johannesburg in 1975. She has had numerous exhibitions within South Africa and her most recent international exhibition was in Chelsea, New York. Two of her artworks were selected for exhibition at the 2008 Beijing Olympics.

Her artwork is represented in Cape Town, Johannesburg, New York and Dubai and forms part of private and corporate collections internationally. Her creations on canvas are best described as dramatic and breathtaking - an exhibition not to be missed.

"My art is not about reproducing reality; but capturing the energy that creates it." Katherine Wood

A signature of Katherine's landscapes is her use of the Boscia albitrunca – the African "Tree of Life" which gives a focal point and depth to her paintings and makes the work uniquely hers.
